JUNE-JULY, 2015

SIVAN-TAMMUZ-AV 5775

From Your Rabbi...

With so many people so tied to their electronic devices, might this be what the 21st century synagogue will eventually look like? RABBI: "Will everyone please turn on their tablet, PC, iPad, smart phone, and Kindles to Art Scroll page 232. And please switch on your Bluetooth to download the sermon." P-a-u-s-e..... "Now, Let us daven. Open your Apps, BBM, Twitter and Facebook, and chat with G-d" S-i-l-e-n-c-e

"As we accept charitable donations, please have your credit and debit cards ready." "You can log on to the shul Wi-Fi using the password 'Hashem18.' The ushers will circulate mobile card swipe machines among the congregants: Those who prefer to make electronic fund transfers are directed to computers and laptops at the rear of the shul. Those who prefer to use iPads can open them. Those who prefer telephone banking, take out your cell phones to transfer your contributions to the shul account.

This week's class will be held on the various Facebook group pages where the usual group chatting takes place. Please log in and don't miss out. Thursday's Talmud Torah study will be held live on Skype at 1900hrs GMT. You can follow the rabbi on Twitter this weekend for counselling and prayers.

There is such a vast amount of knowledge on the internet, and our computers, iPads, smart phones etc. have become an integral part of our lives. However, the electronic age is, at the same time, depriving us of something special: personal relationships. [One might keep up with what's going on in other people's lives, but in my humble opinion, a genuine relationship can only be real when people interact face-to-face.] This phenomenon is not new. Before the electronic age, one created a similar connection with another person by mail. This connection was called pen pals. And although one could get to know another person and even develop a friendship through mail correspondence, unless people spend time together, there will always be something lacking in this type of relationship.

A perfect example is online dating services that match you up with another person. On paper you may seem perfect for each other, and the online correspondence can go very well, but only after you meet and interact in person, look into each other's eyes, see the person smile and walk together hand-in-hand, can you truly know if that other person is right for you.

As usual, Judaism was way ahead of the times when it developed the concept of a synagogue, and until recently, Jewish life revolved around the synagogue. Families came together, young and old, to pray and learn, to socialize and form friendships, to celebrate and even mourn together. And, if you were fortunate, it was the place to find your soul mate.

The synagogue model is perfect. However, many Jewish people communicate in chat rooms, on Facebook, Twitter and Instagram, and tragically do not feel the need to strengthen their Jewish

From Your President...

Hello congregational family,

I hope your summer is going great! We have some fabulous programming coming up, such as our Caviar Family Scholar-in-Residence Weekend with Dr. Daniel Matt on Kabbalah. This one is in conjunction with the JCC. Friday evening and Shabbat morning events are at K.I. and Sunday morning will be at the JCC. Rabbi Shron's 'Shabbat Lite' will continue and is definitely growing in popularity. The 'Shabbat Party for Kids' will continue monthly. Rabbi Shron and his programming committee, have been working very hard to provide continuous programming that is diverse, creative and fun. My hope is that members will show their appreciation for all of the hard work being done on their behalf regarding these programs and get off of the sidelines and jump in. I was just informed that a new program is underway called 'Musical Shabbat Under the Stars,' which will include a catered dinner and sounds like great fun. I believe this is slated to start in July. Please support this hard working group's efforts and attend and enjoy music, services, food and company. Please support our second largest fun(d)raiser, the K.I. Allan Greenberg Memorial Golf Tournament, honoring everyone's friend, Marvin Orlovick, of blessed memory. What a wonderful tribute to one of the finest people I've ever met. Amy Goldstein and Alan Gallas' committee will provide us with another great time, and if you'd like to see my grill, it is currently sitting in the lobby at K.I. However there are still plenty of tickets left so if you're really lucky, you may be able to make it your grill, and I know it will be delivered if necessary for free.

Another very hard working group, the K.I. Strategic Planning Committee, has completed the first phase of the process and all members should have received via email or by regular mail a copy of the summary report. This group has completed many planning meetings, focus groups in our members' homes, and collated data from not only these meetings but a survey as well. This completes the first phase. Now the real work must start and it's called implementation! Now it is time for the action steps. The four areas identified by the committee from the data that came back from the surveys are Shabbat/Holiday services, Ritual/Clergy, Governance/ Communications and Reporting, and Programming/Marketing/Membership and Outreach. I have requested that the Strategic Planning Committee remain in place as the board oversight mechanism in order to assure that the implementation steps actually occur. In the fall there will be task forces that will each undertake one of the target projects. The easy to implement items will be accomplished first, and the items that will take sizeable investment will be tasked to a group that will work to seek out the funds necessary to accomplish the particular task at hand. These task forces will be staffed with board members and those who have shown interest by involving themselves in the focus groups and surveys. The remaining positions will be filled

Rock Balayla Kabbalat Shabbat
& Friday Night Dinner

Upbeat, spirited service followed by Shabbat dinner. Dr. Matt's topic will be Shekhinah: The Feminine Half of G-d. One of the boldest contributions of Kabbalah is the idea that G-d is equally female and male. Dr. Matt will focus on the feminine aspect of G-d, the Shekhinah, and the idea that the Shekhinah is identified with the Sabbath Bride.

RSVP for dinner to the K.I. office
(913.642.1880) by Friday, June 5

Adults: $15 Children under 13: $10

Dr. Matt has been featured in "Time Magazine" and has appeared on "National Public Radio" and "The History Channel." He has published over a dozen books, including "The Essential Kabbalah, Zohar: Annotated and Explained," and "G-d and the Big Bang: Discovering Harmony between Science and Spirituality."

Books will be on sale at the JCC starting May 11, and he will sign books at the JCC Sunday event.

Saturday 9:00 am

Dr. Matt will deliver the sermon during services

Raising the Sparks: Finding G-d in the Material World. It can be challenging to discover G-d in the material world. How can we find G-d in our daily life?

Kiddush luncheon follows services. Free and open to the public.

SUNDAY AT THE JCC

Sunday - 10:00 am - G-d and the Big Bang: Discovering Harmony Between Science and Spirituality.

How does the mystical understanding of Creation compare with the modern theory of the origin of the universe? Is there a way to harmonize these two approaches—the scientific and the spiritual? Join us for a fascinating exploration of the parallels between Kabbalah and contemporary cosmology.

Free and open to the public.

Dr. Matt's visit is made possible with the generous support of The Caviar Family and the Jewish Federation and Jewish Heritage Foundation of Greater Kansas City.
